To whom this may concern,

I hope you would consider my application for the Web Developer position that has recently become available. I have attached my updated resume that contains my information and as you will see, I am currently working at Expert Coatings & Graphics as a Logistics Coordinator & Designer.

Currently, I'm in the process of obtaining my Front End Developer certification from Treehouse, an online technology school that offers beginner to advance courses. My technical skills include using software such as Illustrator, Photoshop and XD. Programming languages include HTML, CSS and JavaScript. I am comfortable working on either Mac or Windows operating systems. I have not worked for any company as a Web Developer but important traits that I have learned from my current and previous jobs that would help me for this position is attention to detail, research, problem solving, time management and creativity.

Let's be honest, we both know that I don't have much on my plate but it doesn't mean that I won't be able to learn and be able to give back to the company. It doesn't mean that I'm not hungry to grow to help deliver the best service for your company and not just simply deliver but to come up with innovating ways to help improve and stand out from the competition. I will have more to offer, if given the opportunity to be part of your amazing team. I hope to hear from you soon.

Sincerely,
Rolando Lopantzi
